FACILITATING GROUP INDUCTION TRAINING FOR CONTRACTOR PERSONNEL

Some contractors will present this course to groups. Below are the guidelines for honest reporting of course participation and assessment results, and what to bring on site as proof of completion.

HONESTY IN ASSESSMENT AND REPORTING
ASSESSMENT	To be considered ready to work safety at the mill site, contractors and their personnel must complete and pass a written assessment. HSPP has the following expectations for contractors who are administering this assessment to their personnel: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ The assessment will be distributed at the conclusion of the course, not at the beginning of the course ▪ Every person taking the course will complete the assessment on their own, without assistance from others ▪ People will not mark and grade their own assessments
REPORTING RESULTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Do not change answers or marks to fabricate passing grades for personnel who have not passed the assessment ▪ Give personnel who have not passed the assessment the opportunity to take the assessment again, either before coming on site or when they arrive on site ▪ Go through the Contractor Indoctrination Record checklist with personnel, and ensure that all personnel have signed the form
WHAT TO BRING ON SITE
MARKED ASSESSMENTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Submit your personnel's marked and graded assessments to the HSPP Safety Department
CONTRACTOR INDOCTRINATION RECORD	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Submit the Contractor Indoctrination Record to either the HSPP Safety Department, the Gatehouse, or area admins in order to collect site safety hard hat endorsement stickers for your personnel
